VICTORIA CROSS FOR BALAKLAVA.

Sergt. Henry Ramage, 2nd Dragoons,

26th OCTOBER, 1854,

fine and very rare 1

 There were never doughtier swordsmen than that handful of Heavy Dragoons who, splendidly led, dashed that day into a column of Russian Horsemen so large that it seemed to swallow up our little band. Deeds of daring were performed by many, but where all behaved so gallantly it was difficult to select individuals as especially worthy the Victoria Cross. Only two were recommended for that distinction ; and in the case of one of these his conduct in the Heavy Brigade charge was supplemented by subsequent devotion, to be afterwards mentioned. Sergt. Henry Ramage, of the Scots Greys, one of the men alluded to, saw in the melée Private M'Pherson of his regiment a short distance off, separated from his comrades and surrounded by seven Russian Horsemen. Not thinking for a moment of the heavy odds against him, Ramage set spurs to his horse, and dashed at the Russians, whom his furious unexpected onset and sweeping blows quickly dispersed, leaving M'Pherson unhurt. A few minutes later, when the fight was over and the Brigade reforming, Sergeant Ramage saw some distance in front of him a dismounted Russian. Vainly endeavouring to make his horse quit the ranks, Ramage dismounted, and rushing towards the retreating man brought him back a prisoner, as it were under the very sabres of the enemy.—Vide The Victoria Cross Heroes. — Ramage did not survive many months after receiving his cross ; he died at Newbridge, Ireland. Capt. Tancred, who obtained the cross for Mr. Fellows, was in command of the funeral party.
